A Different Kind of Christmas

This year our Desert Spring
Different Kind of Christmas is partnering with the Western North Carolina Conference of the United Methodist Church.

Hurricane Helene left widespread destruction across mountain communities and has greatly increased food insecurity in this region. The economy of many small towns was dependent on agriculture, tourism, or a single large employer. Flooding destroyed many of these businesses, resulting in people losing their jobs. The WNCC is working to provide needed food to the survivors of Helene, in coordination with other organizations.

A Christmas gift has been given in your honor to help combat food insecurity of local communities in Western North Carolina.
Merry Christmas!
